

105,595-OPRPT-GTP

Operative G T Purdy

Oct 30th, 1926

Re: Newspaper story regarding screams of agony heard from automobile on road to South Rive the night of Sept. 14th,1922.

Operative received the name of Mrs. Charles Miller, keeper of a general store, Willcox and Bennett, on the road from New Brunswick to South River. She heard screams of agony come from an automobile passing her door the night of Sept. 14th,1922 at about 9:30 P.M.

Operative made inquiries along both roads to South River, the road which the street cars use and the South Amboy bus road, but could not locate such person.

Operative took this matter up with Mr. Neilson, who advised not to waste too much time with this report as he did not think it of much importance. Mr. Thompson was of the same opinion. However, operative will bear this woman in mind and when in that locality will make further inquiries.

Respectfully submitted:

G T P